There's multiple layers to this, happy to chat tomorrow if you want Oli.

- 1) They didn't initially get in on the order, but have recently made requests
- 2) They are asking for 3x what other provinces are asking for to create a stockpile and we are going to have to give out stuff in a reasonable and responsible manner, not just give Quebec everything they want which would impact other provinces.

I think we should have a strategy specifically to deal with Quebec on this.

I've added Leslie as well from procurement.

Hi there – here is some more info for when you talk to QC:

QC put in a request for swabs after not having put in an initial request with us for PPEs. In terms of the #s that they are requesting (which is far greater than what other provinces are asking for), it is clear that they're stockpiling a full year of supply. We may have a problem w them & it may be helpful to manage their expectations a bit.

DM at Health is talking to other DM counterparts in provinces tonight & tomorrow to assess needs. Minister Hajdu also spoke with her FPT counterparts at the political level according to Sabina so she or Matt may have some more intel for you.

Matt had also raised a good point that we can probably expect QC (and perhaps some other provinces) to publicly say in the media "hey we asked for this stuff and we're not getting it" and we should be careful about what we say in response. Minister Hajdu had also raised the QC issue yesterday before the daily presser in the prep room.

Thanks!
