And just to add on the HC side: for medical devices, if the manufacturer can show us an FDA auth, we fast track their licence review as we have a Mutual Recognition Agreement with them.

Notwithstanding FDA approval, all COVID-19 medical products are being reviewed on a priority basis. The timelines are all severely crunched and much, much shorter than ordinary.

Adding this HC doc which describes the licensing process for suppliers, including distributors. So yes, this is an important part of getting medical grade, FDA approved goods.
