Hey,

Far be it from me to be the dude who slips a contact to your email, but we live in strange times.

I just got a call from Sadiq Valliani, an old contact of mine with experience in int'l trade and business ventures – good contacts worldwide.

Through his company (2247533 Alberta Ltd.), he has secured an order of 1M N95 masks, with the potential for 5M more in two weeks. The masks are produced at Shanghai Dasheng Health Products Manufacture in China, which supplies Home Depot with their N95s.

Yesterday AM, he received a note from Phillippe Bisson, one of your supply officers, who told him the masks are up to spec and that HC has issued a Medical Device Establishment License – so all is good to go.

He called me before he got outreach, but the process has lagged since then. No contract yet. He is hoping to get this product on a plane ASAFP.

Would you mind checking on the status or whatever wizardry you do to make things move over there if we need these? Contact info for Sadiq is P [REDACTED] / e:

Don't worry – I did not give him your contact info nor mention your name 😊
