Hello Joel,

Minister Lametti has asked us to schedule a call with Grand Chief Norton on another matter this afternoon. His inquiry about hand sanitizer will likely come up.

If possible, it would be helpful to be able to let Grand Chief Norton know what measures he would need to take this afternoon.

Thanks for your help.

Jesse

Subject: Kahnawake - Hand Sanitizer Production

Good morning Joel,

We have an offer from a distillery in Kahnawake to retool to produce hand sanitizer.

Do you know how we might get them into the system for government programming to mobilize industry to combat COVID-19?

Further details below.

Best regards,

Jesse McCormick
Director of Rights Implementation
Office of the Minister of Justice and Attorney General of Canada

Grand Chief Norton has offered facilities to support the production of hand sanitizer in Kahnawake. Please see below the text he sent me earlier today and an email he forwarded with additional information and photos.

Morning Jesse. I have been in discussions with a businessman in Kahnawake. Who is the sole owner of a state of the art distillery (Abdido) I approached him after watching a story on CBC regarding a distillery in Toronto that retooled it's facility to produce hand sanitizer. The businessman is willing to also retool to produce HS. It's a native owned company. We have been in touch with an expert in the field and have exchanged information that could produce WHO/International standard quality products. From the research that has been done there seems to be an incredible shortage for HS. We do not have time to do an extensive pheasability study of national needs. This could be solely for the FN sector or regular Canadian usage. Please this information on to the Minister and ask him to speak to his colleagues. I will forward you pictures of the facilities if you wish and open to inspection if required.

I will work with Nicholas (copied) to connect with either Minister Bains' (and/or Minister Anand's) Office to feed the proposal into the system. As you are aware, the Government of Canada has recently announced measures to mobilize industry in the fight against COVID-19 (Prime Minister announces Canada's Plan to Mobilize Industry to fight COVID-19).

Also, as noted in the briefing note I provide prior to cabinet committee on Thursday, Kahnawake has confirmed a case of COVID-19 (link). It was the first known case in an Indigenous community in Canada.

We plan to set you up with a series of calls to Indigenous leaders for the upcoming week. We have included Grand Chief Norton in the list of calls.

Best regards,

Jesse McCormick

Hi Jesse,
As promised here are the photos of the distillery in Kahnawake Territory. We are open to inspection anytime.

This is a state of the art facility and is well suited for retooling for hand sanitization conversion.

Grand Chief

As per undertaking, I will follow up this note with docs for your study, in next couple of hours. Meanwhile we wanted to identify a mechanism for downstream conferencing; there are a wide range of options, but I have used the following choices during last couple of years:

- Zoom (probably easiest and fastest to launch, offers both video and audio options)
- WebEx (Cisco product)
- MicroSoft Teams
- Slack

Lee, I suggest trying Zoom.... your call. We are planning to confer on the weekend, so let's try out our options.
