Thank you, Caitlin.

One of our medical advisors, a former ADM in Ontario sent us that as of Friday no rapid testing or Point of Care (PoC) tests approved to date on the Canadian list. All of them are nasal swabs for lab testing, which we have, but the IgG/IgM and other PoC are next phase and available now.

Thanks again

Nick

Hi Nick – I have submitted this information to PSPC officials. Thanks for providing it.

They will be in touch shortly.

Caitlin

Good Afternoon Caitlin,

I hope you can pass this information to an official. We are confident that we have the suppliers, the authority to import here and with the necessary approval documentation to supply the new rapid test kits (IgG/IgM), a variety of PPE like N95 and other masks and ventilators too.

The Buy and Sell submissions were made by:

Polaris Capital Power Inc.

Let me know if there is a time of day they can expect a call? Or if there is someone in particular they can call directly, if that helps.

Let me know if there is anything further you need from me to advance this.

I appreciate your help with this.

Nick..
