Morning Thao,

ON switched to an online system for appointments on Tuesday, Oct 6 – right after Thanksgiving. They made the announcement about the switch just prior to the Thanksgiving long weekend.

Thanks Dominique. Can you remind me when ON switched to an online system for appointments?

Good morning Thao – please see attached

- On Monday, just over 24,000 COVID-19 tests were completed in Ontario, which marks the lowest number of tests the province has processed on a single day since Sept. 9. Appointment slots are remaining empty since the change over from first-come-first-serve lineups at assessment centres to an online appointment system.
