Yes, there are some outliers in different categories that PHAC/Health are working through.

The NL numbers seem quite high?

Matt,

Here is the latest PPE update from yesterday. Two numbers that are unreliable here – (1) test kits. Says 6M ordered, but that's a different approach than what we had heard on Friday where we were ordering 80K, with 100 tests per kit. I've asked for clarity. (2) ventilators, as discussed. The order was placed with Thornhill, but for the reasons discussed there are still discussions underway.
