You can say Ontario received 155k last night (roughly enough for 4-5 days and they'll be getting another 110k from the stockpile by end of day Friday.

We're in close communication with them on their needs.

Hoping to raise in PM brief this morning quickly

Think I can say "unclear what exact portion ON is getting however given how urgent their needs are, they've been sent around 40% and there is a possibility that another jurisdiction may be able to share their portion of the order due to the urgency of the situation in ON too"? 😊

Shannon has Ontario indicated that they're satisfied with what they've received from the 500k order (and have they indeed received the first part?)

Thanks team!

Their percentage allocation is closer to 39% I think, but they'll get that plus some extra I'd imagine.

We've asked health for updated numbers of what's going out today.

FYI Premier Ford just said Ontario needs it's fair share of the 500k N95s for Ontario. He says that is 40%. Not sure that's the allocation formula. Just flagging for awareness in case they give one of you guys a call.

Hi all,

Came to ground with Ontario about Ford's comments on the 500k masks being stuck in the US. These are the federal governments 500k masks that 3M is delivering. They were under the impression that the entire buy was coming to them and not being distributed based on the funding formula. I've told them that is not my understanding, that they get a portion of that based on the funding formula and needs.

They're trying to clear it up with the media now but they're media was going out with the assumption they get the entire 500k, so it may still not be clear.
