Ok thanks Matt. Let me know when you have enough together to include. This can make its way into a speech any day really — either as a prominent piece or a secondary one depending on daily theme.

Hi Cam,

I don't think we are ready to build in the donations announcement into the PM's speech tomorrow. Here is the brief background:

Home Depot – donated 30k N95 masks this week

Suncor – donated 50k N95 masks (arrival date tbd)

Apple – donating 100k N95 and 100k surgical (arrival date tbd – and they are nervous about going public until they are on a plane to Canada as things are challenging in their supply chain)

Jack Ma Foundation – donated 500k N95 masks that arrived this week as well as 100k test kits. They have not gone public yet, so confirming with how they want to handle it.

All to say, some good news but not ready for showtime yet.

Matt
