Hi Chelsea,

could you please do me a favor. Can you please let me know or find out if we are looking for remdesivir or are we waiting until Canadian clinical trials end to make a decision?

Beximco Pharma produces the generic version of it. My friends company Biocare has got the contract to market it in the Philippines. We are engaging Beximco directly to get the rights to the Canadian market. Should we fail, we will run things through Biocare. Either way, don't worry about the shortage the USA has caused, I am putting us in a position to get it should we need it.

cheers

J
