Hi Folks,

This is a message from a constituent re availability of medical supplies. I don't know what to do with it except make it known to the ministry.

Cheers

Good evening Mr. BRATINA,

Hope you are doing good and your week is starting off well.
Thank you, for returning my call today sir!

Please have a look at the link below.

You will find an excel document itemizing all of the available supplies we have access to, with the main pertinent information you will need to evaluate.

You will also find folders containing technical specifications for each items listed in the excel sheet.

Please have a look and let me know if you have any questions or which products you are interested in.

Please note that pricing and product availability are only good for 24hrs. Things are changing extremely fast in the world, as countries are looking to secure critical supplies or production time on the manufacturing lines.

Kind Regards,
