As written – the 5min mark is probably right as she would start the Phoenix remarks.

The parts I cut are things she can(will) very easily pivot to in her responses – i.e.: describing the global market volatility, and the GM contract as a positive domestic example.

I added a rather strongly worded opening dealing with why we aren't going to give them all the contract details they want... YET!

You guys want to take peek before I send it to her?
