Sorry. I sent everything for one final fact check from officials who just made two very small changes to the May 17 delivery (I updated in red & strikethrough below).

Officials also clarified that there are no more ventilators from Zoll on the way. So could tweak slightly and after saying "we received ventilators from Zoll, with more on the way from other suppliers"

Thanks & very sorry again for all the changes!

Thanks! I'll add some of this new info to the frame we have in the remarks.

Hey Astrid – just following up on a few things in case you'd like to include them in the PM's remarks (Matt asked me to share w you!):

- 1) Officials confirmed that to date, we've had 34 PPE flights to date with GC cargo on them (if you include the one that landed tonight)
 - a. It's 35 if you include the 'empty' PPE plane
- 2) Yesterday (May 17), we received ~~10M~~ 2.5M gloves, 1.9M surgical masks on a flight & some KN95s (but I wouldn't mention the KN95s)
- 3) Tonight, we expect to receive 2.5M gloves & 2.6M surgical masks on a flight
- 4) Tomorrow, we expect to receive 291K gowns and 1.7M surgical masks on a flight
- 5) On May 20, we expect to receive an additional 3M gloves and 1.5M surgical masks on a flight

And as previously discussed, over the weekend (so between Friday & now), the PHAC warehouse received the following:

- 800k gowns
- 1.1m face shields
- Almost 9.9m surgical masks
- 200k goggles

And on the contracts with domestic gown suppliers – officials said on May 15 that we have 15 contracts in place with domestic gown suppliers. Not sure where the 20 number came from, neither is PSPC MinO, unless we're missin' something.

Thanks!

Sabrina
