Yes! Although shouldn't we say gowns instead of jackets?

Hi Matt - We've drafted the following posts based on the PM's remarks this morning. Do you have any edits or concerns? Thank you!

Update on personal protective equipment: We've doubled our inventory of surgical masks and face shields. And hundreds of thousands of hospital jackets, glasses, face shields, and swabs will be delivered to provinces and territories this week and in the weeks ahead.

We're also working to make sure as much of this equipment as possible can be produced right here in Canada. We now have 15 contracts across the country to make hospital gowns. And we're going to start receiving jackets from Montreal's @Samuelsohn1923 by the end of the month.
