I honestly don't think it's worth a PM a mention in remarks, but maybe an RT if we tweet!

Adding a couple others from our office.

I think if this can be condensed into the key supports like you addressed below then may be worth the PM mentioning or re-tweeting etc.

Jordan any concerns if we have Blair highlight these and then we can potentially have the PM mention or amplify on channels?

Subject: FW: Expanding waiver of duties

Any chance you guys want to message on this from the PM today/tomorrow? Basically CBSA waived duties/taxes on imports of PPE a few weeks ago. They just expanded the order to include goods required by seniors homes and shelters. It's a bit wonky, so if no appetite on your end, we will just amplify from Blair's account. CBSA will tweet about this today.

Good morning, Brittany.

The following updated Customs Notice document is now available on the CBSA Web site this morning:

<https://www.cbsa-asfc.gc.ca/publications/cn-ad/cn20-08-eng.html>

The lines are the same as they were when we first published with the exception of the expanded definition to include seniors homes and shelters.

We can certainly promote this on our social media to show what is being done for business. We will send the link once we do so it can be retweeted.

Dan, Cailin and Colleen - over to you.

Thx,

Erika

Hey guys, hearing the below from your side. Might be good to message on in terms of proactive comms from the Minister's twitter - has the below revision already happened? And if so , can I please get a plain language explanation of what this change means?

We will issue a revision to Customs Notice 20-08 today to expand the application of the waiver of duties and taxes for these emergency good.
