Ah ok, so as I understand it PSPC is looking to provide us with more information on this today. We may want to adjust based on what they provide.

Just a quick Q to you both regarding the reply Boyan sent us yesterday, he asked me for an example of T&Cs, do you have something we can share? The reason I keep asking him for it is because I've only seen a few bullets and a few emails on the scope and mandate and need something more official.

Just on timing on my end, Nadia knows this but just flagging to you as well that I've got two offices presenting items at committee today so I've been wrapped up in that the last 72h. I'm going to dig into this (hopefully) this evening once I receive the additional info from PSPC. Then was going to connect with Nadia who is patiently waiting on me to wrap up this insane weekend of TC and PSPC fun. Hope that's ok!

MIN ANAND

Minister Anand is looking to strike a Covid-19 Supply council. The point here is two-fold: mobilizing these individuals/organizations' networks to give us advice on how to do supply chain better (and help where possible) and troubleshoot areas of concern we continue to have; but also to help connect these groups and sectors as we aim to respond more to non-governmental needs. This one is a little farther out. We and policy (colleen) have some qs. Namely – part of what this panel will do is look to get to PPE to non-health care workers and want more info on how that will be framed. Current make up is mostly heads of industry associations with a members whom represent direct industry representation. We wonder how they will manage the competitors of those CEOs chosen whom may feel left out. Were unclear on how this panel will evolve if there are multiple surges in the pandemic Right now they are targeting to ask 20 people which is a big group to manage. In fairness they know some will fall off but they all may say yes, the bigger the group the more groups that aren't included feel left out so that is an issue as well. As this is a new group we would like to terms and conditions as were still a little unclear as to how this group will function. Next steps – get clarity on the mandate and how this council will be managed, need the DD and caucus consults and then we can present a more fulsome summary/recommendation.
