This line:

Can we say:

They will produce over a million litres of hand sanitizer each month, with shipments starting as early as next week.

Following up - we received confirmation from the company that shipments will start as early as next week, so revised below!

“Fluid Energy out of Alberta has provided us with their delivery schedule for hand sanitizer that will significantly help us transition from overseas dependence.

They can produce millions of litres of hand sanitizer, with shipments starting as early as next week.

Hand sanitizer is a key commodity – and this agreement will help us transition from overseas dependence.”
