Basically how we're streaming things is as follows:

If stakeholders are talking about re-tooling, they should go to ISED. If they have products ready to go, they should be directed to PSPC's portal.

For existing health product manufacturer or potential importers (who would be the Canadian licence holder) of a health product seeking clarity on their pathway to market and the regulatory details, they can send a note to the following email from Health Canada: hc.devicelicensing-homologationinstruments.sc@canada.ca

ISED is currently reworking their email address for those looking for business support to either create a new class of product or retool to produce products we need.
